Four Sons of Marion Pastor To Follow His Steps into Ministry

All Pattern Life Work After Their Father, Dr. Harry L. Bell.

Four sons following in their father's footsteps in the ministry is the unusual family record of Dr and Mrs Harry L Bell of 310 Bellefontaine avenue The father is pastor of Central Christian church and on May 19 will celebrate the silver anniversary of his ordination

Considerable publicity was given the boys in a recent edition of the Disciples of Christ church magazine which carried their pictures and drew attention to the fact that all are preparing for the ministry

Most families are proud when a son follows his father's business or profession—some families regard it as a matter of course—but in the Bell family there is a quartet of boys who have found their father's life work good and have chosen to make it their own

They are Raymond 23 Wayne 20 and Winston 18 all students at Transylvania college in Lexington Ky and Keith 17 a junior at Harding High school

Wayne a senior who is now holding pastorates in Kentucky will be ordained to the ministry on May 19 at Central church here on the occasion of his father's twenty fifth anniversary of ordination Dr Bell was ordained at Eugene Wash

Selected Own Careers

Their choice of the ministry is their own

Neither Dr Bell nor their mother has ever urged the boys to enter the ministry In family discussion the parents have held up the ministry as a high calling but it has never been unduly stressed over any of the other many professions in which the boys might be interested The matter of choice was left to the individual boy

The three at Transylvania the Disciples of Christ denominational school all have been active in campus affairs have made better than average scholastic records and this year all three were elected by popular vote of the student body to the court of honor which is held annually in the spring as a part of the traditional pioneers day festivities on the campus

In College 'Who's Who'

Wayne was one of seven Transylvania students selected for this year's edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities He is president of his class and is president of the college's Phi Kappa Alpha fraternity chapter Last year he was president of the junior class

Since his sophomore year he has held student pastorates a privilege not usually extended to under-graduate students Two Sundays a month he preaches at Alton Ky one Sunday he supplies the pulpit of a church at California Ky and the fourth Sunday he preaches at a mountain settlement at Casey Creek

He is a graduate of the Harlan Ky High school After receiving his B A degree in June he expects to return to Transylvania in the fall to start work for his bachelor of divinity degree at the College of Bible the seminary

Raymond who was graduated from the Ellersburg Wash High school waited two years before entering college He is a junior and this year was elected to the honor council of the student body

President of Class

Winston a graduate of Harding High school last June and a member of the Harding chapter of the National Honor society is president of the freshman class at Transylvania and is on the honor roll this year He appeared in both the junior and senior plays at Harding High school

Keith is a junior at Harding this year His course of study is towards college entrance and he expects to matriculate at Transylvania in the fall of 41 The summer he will be graduated from the Disciples young people's summer conference at Lakeside having completed the four year course of special study there

The boys have a sister Mrs Harry Weaver Smith of Harlan Ky who was active in Marion music circles before her marriage a year ago last summer

The family moved to Marion three years ago from Harlan Ky

BRITAIN SEEKS TRADE WEAPON

London Acts To Prevent Axis Capture of Her Foreign Commerce

By The Associated Press

LONDON March 15—Great Britain brought three new weapons into her economic front line today to meet the threat of a German Russian Italian bloc aimed at capturing her trade

Her effort was intended to fortify the British position in the economic struggle by increasing her reserves of foreign exchange for purchases of war supplies mobilizing the resources of the British and French overseas empires and driving German securities from British money markets

These measures coincided with reports in Belgrade that foreign minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop of Germany had suggested to Italy formation of a German-Italian-Russian economic bloc with all small states between these powers.

As reported in Belgrade, Von Ribbentrop's proposal to the Italian government would put Europe's small Baltic, central and southeastern states in the economic orbit of the three totalitarian powers, with whom some already do most of their trading

Italy Shies At Russia

Yugoslav officials, were skeptical, however that Italy would consider taking Russia into partnership

As Britain pulled in her belt another notch the Times of London forecast the likelihood of further sacrifices emphasizing the need of diverting from civilian consumption something like half of the whole current production in order to devote it to winning the war

These were the three new British measures

1 To tighten its hold on foreign exchange the government banned private importation of canned and bottled fruits, beginning next Tuesday

Only the ministry of food will be permitted to buy these products abroad but the effect on British supplies is not expected to be felt immediately since large stock have been accumulated recently In 1938 more than $14,000 000 worth was imported from the United States

Conference in Paris

2 To organize British French colonial cooperation in order to utilize all of both empires resources for the war effort, it was learned Malcolm MacDonald colonial secretary will confer in Paris soon with George Mandel French minister of colonies

3 Large-scale selling in Britain of securities chiefly negotiable bonds on behalf of German interests was disclosed in a stock exchange warning to members to exercise greatest caution in accepting and executing orders the real source of which they are not able to verify beyond all reasonable doubt

Such sales are subject both to stock exchange disciplinary action and stringent penalties under the law forbidding trading with the enemy

"Most Deadly Explosive" Invented by Brother of Delaware Man

Powerful Formula Explained at Hearing of Senate Committee.

Lester P Barlow of Stamford, Conn inventor of "the most deadly explosive" which was the subject of a secret meeting of the senate military affairs committee this week is a brother of Wayne Barlow, operator of the roller skating rink at the Delaware county fairgrounds

The inventor is pictured above explaining how the new explosive works although the bomb in his hands is not of the new type The new explosive so impressed the senate committee that records of the two-hour session were barred lest a foreign power learn the formula

Another Meeting Scheduled

A joint meeting of the senate and house naval and military committees has been called for Monday to consider the question further

Barlow is seeking permission to demonstrate its force on animals contending It won't hurt them since it causes instantaneous death

Senator Gerald P Nye declared after the hearing that the explosive was so devastating it would give any nation an "incomparable advantage in war time Its detonation, he said utterly destroys everything within miles"

Mr Barlow said the explosive combines liquid oxygen and carbon and was designed for use in mines and not artillery shells its effect depending upon the expansion of gases

Partial Tests Made

Tests so far conducted with only five pounds of explosive have cracked plaster in buildings two miles away It is reported the explosive is far superior to the type reputed to have been used in Barcelona where whole buildings and hundreds of people were destroyed without having been struck

Mr Barlow believes Hitler's "secret weapon" may be something similar

Civic Orchestra and Guest Singer Score Hit with Big Concert Crowd

Audience of 1,100 Demands Encores from Marion Musicians and Margaret Speaks, Soloist.

By EDNA S DUTTON

One of the best as well as one of the most difficult programs ever played by the Marion Civic orchestra, directed by Abram Ruvinsky, and the presentation of Margaret Speaks, Ohio-born radio and concert singer here last night provided an audience of approximately 1,100 persons a good reason for making the occasion a memorable one

And there were other reasons to make the evening one long to be remembered. For the first time since the orchestra was organized six years ago, the concert was given in the Palace theater. Here the stage provided a spacious and appropriate setting for the musicians, and the adequate seating capacity and the fact that seats could be reserved were much to the patrons' liking.

Also, last evening's concert was the most ambitious adventure, from the standpoint of selling tickets, to be attempted by the Woman's symphony board, sponsors of the concert series, and the orchestra members

Orchestra Wins Praise

Conductor Ruvinsky may always be relied upon to provide programs of high merit and keen interest and the concert last night was no exception. The orchestra gave a brilliant and most satisfying account of itself from the first compelling measures of the "Tannhauser March," by Wagner, to the masterful interpretation of the Tschaikowsky "Overture 1812," which closed the program.

Miss Speaks, blond, tall and wearing a satin gown whose color reflected her smiling blue eyes, sang with a richness of voice and

CHICAGO, March 15 — William Bioff, west coast movie labor leader, today was ordered to the house of correction to complete a six months sentence imposed 18 years ago for pandering.

Entering of the order, however, was delayed until March 25 to allow Bioff's attorneys to take the matter to the state supreme court.

The issue in the case, Judge Prystalski declared, is "has the state a right after 17 years to enforce this judgment." He said he had considered the evidence carefully and found he had no jurisdiction to release Bioff.

G. O. P. Completes List of Delegates Pledged to Sen. Taft.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O March 15 — Completion of a national convention delegate slate presented new difficulties to the state Democratic organization only a few hours before today's 6 p m deadline for filing nominating petitions for the May 14 primary

Charles Sawyer national committeeman and "favorite son" presidential candidate, expected to file his list of 18 delegate-at-large candidates yesterday but two of them failed to send in their petitions

Meanwhile Sawyer and Walter S Heer, Franklin county chairman were reported to have disagreed over the selection of 12th district delegate-candidates Heer was said to have refused to name delegates suggested by Sawyer and to have told the national committeeman "we're not interested in a Sawyer slate"

Opposition Slate Seen

Some political observers speculated over the possibility that Heer might enter in the 12th district an opposition slate pledged to someone other than Sawyer as a "favorite son" but still agreed to support President Roosevelt should he seek renomination.

The organization slate also would support Roosevelt at the national convention

Meanwhile, the Republican state organization filed a slate of eight delegates-at-large each with a full convention vote pledged to Sen Robert A Taft of Cincinnati as "favorite son"

Davey Sees Victory Assured at Polls

By The Associated Press

KENT, O, March 15—Former Gov. Davey, making his second attempt for a third term, stated today voluntary reports indicated his "overwhelming" nomination and showed "that countless thousands of Republicans" are waiting to retire Gov. Bricker.

"These letters and telegrams come from almost everywhere in Ohio and they ring with an enthusiasm that is certain evidence of victory," said Davey. He filed in Columbus nominating petitions bearing 33,000 signatures from the 88 counties.

"The most significant thing that we read in all these letters is the widespread weakness of Governor Bricker, not only among Democrats but among innumerable Republicans"

Davey, one of eight announced Democrats for the gubernatorial nomination, was defeated for renomination in 1938 after serving two terms.

KIWANIS TALK GIVEN BY DR. C. E. TURLEY

Morality Subject of Former Marion Minister.

Man has the freedom to choose which way he will go and must make his own decision whether to follow the right or the wrong path, Dr Charles E Turley former pastor of Epworth Methodist church told members of the Marion Kiwanis club at a luncheon meeting at Hotel Marion yesterday

Dr Turley who is now superintendent of the Wilmington district of the Methodist church declared that individuals are divided into three groups so far as morality is concerned The group at the top which he termed the moral aristocracy is sincerely religious in following the right path Then there is a middle group which he said is moral only because of social pressures and because of fear of what might result from following the wrong path and last there is a lower group composed of men and women who rebel against society and choose the wrong path in the hope of furthering their own plans

The problem facing us today he declared is to increase the size of the group at the top

Describing the explanation of the universe and man given by scientists Dr Turley declared that in his opinion this materialistic explanation is incomplete because it fails to explain how man obtained the mind and superior [illegible] other animals

I believe that behind man and the material universe is a great [illegible] he said

Dr Turley was introduced by Jean Carr who presided at the meeting

Henry A Krigbaum was inducted in a ceremony in charge of Rev Robinson chairman of the Kiwanis education committee Alfred Merrill of Cleveland was a guest

Eastern Democrats Favor Breaking Third Term Rule

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK March 15—Eastern Democrats generally appear to favor a breaking of the third-term tradition but until such time as President Roosevelt makes known his own views they—like the Republicans—are leaning toward uninstructed delegates to the national party conventions

With primary tests—three in April one in May—approaching in four vote-rich states the situation sums up something like this

Leaders on both sides are awaiting more tangible developments and a crystallizing of popular sentiment before making final commitments

In the east as elsewhere political strategists have their ears cocked for a White House answer to the third term riddle In Mr Roosevelt's home state of New York which has the largest block of electoral votes In New Jersey Massachusetts and Pennsylvania the President is virtually assured of his party's support should he decide to run again

In New Jersey the potent Frank Hague machine was among the first Democratic organizations to back a third term The Pennsylvania state committee has indorsed Mr Roosevelt and while Massachusetts Democrats as a whole favor a third term the situation there is somewhat confused

Farley's Influence Felt

This results from the action of National Chairman James A Farley who authorized state Chairman William A Burke to give delegates written permission to run as pledged to him—an action required under Massachusetts law

At first this was interpreted as a definite indication that Farley was in the presidential fight on his own Doubt was cast on that interpretation however when Burke notified the slate that the action was taken in the belief Mr Roosevelt would not seek a third term and the assumption that if he did then Mr Farley and the Democratic party as a whole would support his candidacy

Some politicians saw in this statement a move on Farley's part to bag the delegates for the president, and to prevent the Bay State delegation's capture by some other candidate Farley himself has remained silent

Further interesting aspects to the Massachusetts picture are seen in the Republican camp which is almost certain to send an unpledged delegation to the convention

Both Governor Saltonstall and Rep Joseph Martin Republican leader in the national house have indorsed the strategy purportedly to put the delegation in a better position to make its voice heard in choosing candidates Some quarters however see in the move a plan to throw the delegation eventually behind Martin's dark horse candidacy

Massachusetts Republicans, as a whole have been chary in committing themselves, but former Gov Alvan T Fuller has gone on record in favor of Thomas E Dewey

Dewey and his fellow New Yorker Publisher Frank Gannett are among the most active of the Republican campaigners New York Republicans already have selected eight delegates at large the majority of whom are pledged to Dewey although Gannett supporters have expressed satisfaction with the slate

While the New York national committeeman Kenneth F Simpson has stated I'm for Tom Dewey he has not backed this up with action as have many state leaders

Dewey is entered in the New Jersey primary May 21 and has invited other Republican aspirants to follow suit An unpledged delegate at large slate has been ratified by the New Jersey state committee This group will follow the voters wishes as expressed in the primary, although it will go to the convention uninstructed

Dewey has the support of leaders in the two major factions of the Republican party in New Jersey

In Pennsylvania the Republican delegation is pledged to Governor James [illegible] Mr Poole [illegible] on the Democratic side [illegible] on the primary [illegible] Senator Guffey D Pa who is seeking reelection as an ardent third term [illegible] says Pennsylvania is the best testing ground for the New Deal

Lehman Is Question

On the Democratic side in New York Governor Lehman who probably will head the state delegation [illegible] to be heard from He has differed with the President on occasion notably during the supreme court reorganization fight, but his present attitude on the campaign is unknown

The Tammany hall delegation of 22 is committed to Mr Roosevelt although not legally bound

Several Tammany delegates face primary opposition from candidates pledged to Vice President Garner who is challenging Tammany in its own back yard—New York City congressional districts

Primary dates for the four most populous eastern states follow New York—April 2 Pennsylvania—April 23 Massachusetts—April 30 New Jersey—May 21

The four states have a total of 116 electoral votes out of 531 for the country

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, March 16

PARTICULARLY lively and sudden events may be expected on this day, with many developments of a surprising character. These will be attended by much doubt and perplexity because of side issues that are treacherous, subtle and even sinister. Be alert to all sorts of schemes, plots, illicit involvements and snares as wel las open hostility or attack. There might be accidents, fires, theft or disaster. The private life is also afflicted, but over all are factors for progress and definite gain and good fortune.

Those whose birthday it is have a rather complicated year with which to rope. While there is augury of positive success, progress and increased possessions and finances, won by enterprise, ability, originality and creative genius, there also are pitfalls and plots of malicious and sinister intent. Beware of deception, subtle and open hostility, fraudulent entanglements and also sudden physical dangers. Be careful with the signature and all writings.

A child born on this day may have much versatility, originality and creative ability, with aggressiveness and ingenuity, but it may be carried away by temperamental and emotional stresses.

Daily Pattern for Home Use

By ANNE ADAMS

PATTERN 4411

DAINTY FROCK OR SUN-OUTFIT

Every fond mother who loves to dress up her child gets even more satisfaction out of it if she "makes every stitch herself." In Pattern 4411, Anne Adams presents a versatile style that's an all-day frock or a sun-and-fun outfit. The bodice panels, front and back, smartly square out into yokes. Omit the pert puffed sleeves and the sides of the bodice, cut the round neck lower, and you've a sun-frock. The square shoulder-pieces prevent too much sunburn. A matching or contrasting sunbonnet is demure and useful for shading young eyes from the sun. Do go gay with ric-rac or ruffling on the sun-style; lace and bows on the frock.

Pattern 4411 is available in children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 6, dress, takes 2 yards 35 inch fabric. sun-tan frock and bonnet, 2¾ yards 35 inch fabric.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

It's smart to "sew your own"! And with Anne Adams' spring style book for expert guidance, you can have that well-dressed look always. Choose from dozens of frocks, suits, coats, home-modes pictured. See the' new silhouettes — peg-top, bouffant, apron and longer-torso—shown in both sunlight and starlight styles. Sportsters, tailoreds and dress-up clothes for bride, career girl, hard-to-fit matron and young set, are all included. Order a copy today! Book fifteen cents. Pattern fifteen cents. Book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

There's Something of Interest in Every Line

STOLEN CAR FOUND

Police today were searching for a car thief who stole an automobile in Toledo Wednesday, changed the license plates and abandoned the car here. Officers found the car, owned by Harry Howell of Toledo, along the C. & O. railroad right-of-way at the rear of Scranton street and traced it to Mr. Howell through a checkup of the motor serial number. The license plates found on the car when it was recovered were issued to a Marion man who recently sold the car here. Apparently the plates were then stolen from the purchaser and used to bring the stolen car from Toledo to Marion, police said. Mr. Howell was expected to come here to claim the car this afternoon.

MARYSVILLE TRIAL EXHIBITS OFFERED

100 Items Submitted as Trial Enters Fifth Day.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, March 15—Trial of Samuel P. Sloane, 39, Dayton vending machine promoter being tried on a charge of violating the state's securities law, moved into the fifth day with this morning's session devoted to exhibits entered by the prosecution.

Approximately 100 items, including papers of several companies, bills of sale, orders, stock certificates and letters, were offered to support the state's contention that Sloane was the main figure behind concerns involved in the proceedings. Jurors were dismissed while the court ruled on admitting several items and the trial was to be resumed this afternoon.

Evidence was introduced late yesterday in an effort to link Sloane with the Woodward-Berkley Co. and Superfine Service Inc., both of Dayton. W. C. Brelsford, bookkeeper-accountant for the Woodward-Berkley Co., testified Sloane advanced $5,000 to that company and $21,000 to the other.

Vending machines handled by the two companies were obtained from a Detroit firm, in which Sloane also was interested, Brelsford testified. The machines were purchased for $40 each and sold, as in the case of two elderly Marysville sisters who purchased 101 of them, at $67.50, witnesses told the court.

The sisters leased their machines immediately to Superfine Service Inc., for servicing and such a lease-back proposition constitutes the sale of securities, the state claims.

GALION CLASS ADDRESSED BY GERMAN REFUGEE

Special to The Star

GALION, March 15—Conditions in Germany and after the Hitler regime were described in a talk Thursday night by a German refugee, Miss Gertie Farber, who was guest speaker at a meeting of the Men's Brotherhood at Peace Lutheran parish house. She told her listeners about the liberties of the people in Germany before Hitler headed the government, when free press and free speech could be compared with that in the United States, and then she spoke of conditions today when everybody is afraid to talk. She stressed the fact that citizens of the United States should be thankful they can live in this country as they do.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Rickets

HAVE YOUR children been examined carefully this spring? It has been a hard winter and they have probably been getting less sun and exercise than usual. Be sure that they haven't any signs of the great spring disease of children, which is rickets.

Rickets is a disease peculiar to childhood. It is caused by lack of vitamin D, which is manufactured in the body by exposure to sunlight. It can usually be prevented or cured by the use of food products containing the vitamin. Vitamin D is fat-soluble and is, therefore, found in oils, particularly fish-liver oils—cod-liver oil, halibut-liver oil, salmon-liver oil, etc. It can also be obtained in an artificially irradiated vegetable oil.

Children vary, however, in their need for vitamin D. They vary, therefore, in their need for sunlight and for cod-liver oil. Those with dark skin, particularly, need more because the dark skin filters out the sun rays which produce vitamin D. Even if a child has had protective measures during the winter, it is well to think of these variations and to examine all of them under your care, especially for rickets.

Pilot Tells Exciting Story of Fight In Air

By The Associated Press

JERSEY CITY N J March 15—The death of a man tentatively identified as Amanuel Friedberg 35 of New York who was killed yesterday when a small training plane fell into New York bay following a mid air struggle between a passenger and pilot was recorded by police today as simply a case of suicide

Police placed a guard around the room of Pilot Joseph Rosemarin 38 of Brooklyn at the medical center where he was under treatment for shock and submersion however after a fugitive from justice warrant was lodged against him by Staten Island N Y authorities

Jersey City police said they believed the charge was purely technical one which is usually filed against operators of vehicles in cases of accident deaths

From his hospital bed Rosemarin told Police Capt ... Fred Drexen a graphic story of the terrifying trip He said that his passenger became terror stricken while flying over Brooklyn and leaned over and hit me over the head with pliers

I struck back and knocked him unconscious the pilot said I was unable to control the plane and had to land

After the plane hit the water Rosemarin said he climbed out of the cabin and straddled the fuselage He was rescued a few minutes later by the tug Osprey whose crew had been watching the fast falling ship

The captain of the lighter which raised the plane with a boom said he saw a body drop into the bay Jersey city police and New York Harbor police were still grappling for the body

Five-Sixths of Us Ride Uptown, Survey Reveals

Cordon Count, Part of Traffic Study, Charts Vehicles and Pedestrian Movements in Marion.

[illegible] WPA [illegible]

About one sixth of the people you see in Marion's business district got there by walking—the rest rode

The figures for a 16 hour period are

Walking in 9 472 out 8 840
Riding in 47 248 out 44 999

Obviously many persons came in and out of the business district several times during the 16 hours

This choice bit of information is one of many obtained in one of the most unusual features of the report of Marion's WPA traffic survey—the cordon count

16 Hour Study Made

The cordon count designed to determine the use of the uptown area on a typical day was accomplished by stationing checkers at all possible entrances to the area for a period of 16 hours The workers took observations regularly from 7 a m to 11 p m at 72 points

The result shows the volume of persons and vehicles the time distribution of the flow and concentration on various streets during the day

The cordon area was bounded roughly as follows on the west by Leader street Olney avenue and Blaine avenue on the south by Columbia street on the east by High street on the north by Mill street

During the 16 hours there were 28 775 vehicles entering the area and 28 815 leaving The fact that more vehicles left than entered is explained by the fact that the entire surplus of leaving vehicles lay in truck traffic The trucks undoubtedly had been parked uptown the preceding night and hence had not been counted among the incoming vehicles

Total Figures

The totals included 26 190 passenger cars in 26 076 out 2 585 trucks in 2 739 out

Trucks accounted for about 10 per cent of the traffic in and out of the area The greatest influx of truck traffic was at North Main and Mill streets The peak for truck traffic is between 8 a m and 9 40 a m due to deliveries to stores

Several hourly periods show peak volumes for all vehicular traffic Between 7 30 and 9 a m the inbound traffic averaged 1 684 vehicles per hour compared with the entire morning average of 1 6[illegible]8 per hour During the hour and a half from 7 30 to 9 a m 1 920 vehicles left the area leaving an accumulation of 606 vehicles inside

During the afternoon the flow of vehicles averages 316 per hour in and out The afternoon peak comes from 4 30 to 5 30 when 2 871 cars passed in and out due to workers heading homeward

Center at Olney Busy Spot

Oddly enough the greatest number of vehicles enter and leave the cordon area on Center at Olney which is indicative of the number of workers driving to and from industrial work in the West Side Next busiest entrance-exit — Center street at High

The list of entrance exits and the percentage of vehicles using them follows

Leader at railroads 5 8 Oak at railroads 2 6 Prospect at railroads 5 2 Main at railroads 10 4 State at railroads 5 6 Center at High 12 3 Church at High 10 Pleasant at High 2 Columbia at High 1 7 High at Columbia 1 State at Columbia 2 Main at Columbia 7 6 Prospect at Columbia 6 4 Pearl at Columbia 1 5 Girard at Columbia 2 Cherry at Columbia 1 5 Windsor at Columbia 1 2 Columbia at Windsor 3 7 Blaine at Church 2 1 Olney at Church 1 7 Church at Olney 3 4 Center at Olney 13 3

The time study of vehicle accumulation in the business area shows the peak accumulations are from about 8 45 a m to 11 a m from 2 30 to 5 p m and from 7 30 to about 9 p m Low points in the accumulation are early in the morning just before noon and about 6 p m The highest accumulation is at the evening peak

A similar time study was made of occupants of vehicles and naturally showed about the same trends

Pedestrian Study

The pedestrian study showed that 16 7 per cent of the people entering the business district walked in and that 16 4 per cent of those leaving walked out This indicates that some people got rides home

The total number of persons checked in was 56 720 (including those riding) and the total checked out was 53 339 indicating that some people stayed up town rather late at night the count ending at 11 p m

Inbound pedestrian traffic was heaviest at 7 30 a m and outbound at 4 p m Most of the pedestrian traffic in and out follows Main street north of the railroads This gateway accounts for 17 8 per cent of inbound persons and 19 6 of outbound Center street at Olney is second In the list Church at High is third in inbound and fourth in outbound and Center at High is fourth in inbound and third in outbound

In the 16 hours 1 684 persons walked in on Main street and 1 729 walked out

The total number of pedestrians coming in the district was 9 472 and the total going out 8 840

Rail Crossings Studied

Another feature of the study of Marion's uptown area covered the railroad crossings

The report comments that crossings enter into the traffic problem not only as hazard but also as causes of congestion and delay

A survey at North Main street disclosed that the crossings up town were blocked 24 times between 9 a m and 4 p m for from one to five minutes

Another survey brought the following estimates of vehicle crossings at various railroads in 24 hour periods

North Main 16 767 North Prospect 12 167 North State 6 417 and West Center 27 340 (at Union Station)

Civic Orchestra Concert Scores Hit

expression which has made her a favorite on the concert stage and radio

The audience enjoyed the program and was most responsive The prolonged and lusty applause was rewarded with encores from both the orchestra and Miss Speaks

For the orchestra's second number Conductor Ruvinsky chose the famous Andante Cantabile from Tschaikowsky's Fifth Symphony opus 64 The lovely singing melody of the French horn repeated in imitation by the oboe violins and woodwinds and other instruments made the choice most acceptable

Miss Speaks chose five numbers for her first group They were Tu lo sai Torelli Geheimes Schubert Mit ner Wasserlilie Grieg Plaudere wasche Weingartner and Barkarole Marx These and her second group sung in English proved her a rarely sensitive and accurate interpreter with a lovely voice of sympathetic range and tone purity

Frolik [illegible] opus 43 No 5 by Grieg played by the orchestra opened the second half of the program The second number in the group was the [illegible] of Rimsky Korsakov The Flight of the Bumble Bee At the insistence of the audience this number was repeated and the encore was The March of the Lead Soldiers by Pierne

The always melodious and rhythmic Tales from the Vienna Woods by Johann Strauss was one of the most pleasing numbers on the program and in this the orchestra gave a full measure of interpretive excellence

Miss Speaks chose to sing Sylvia by her uncle Oley Speaks at the head of one of the Paul Nordoff numbers in her second group This was one of her most pleasing numbers as was Morning by the same composer Completing the group were Disenchantment and Over the Land Is April both by Ernest Charles Serenade by Paul Nordoff and A Cradle Song by John Alden Carpenter She was brought to the stage at the close of her first group to receive two large bouquets of flowers and returned at the close of her last group to sing two encores Love's Own Sweet Song from Sari by Kalman a number she uses frequently on the air and Ah Sweet Mystery of Life

Orchestra's Climax Number

Climaxing the program was the Tschaikowsky overture which the orchestra played with a keen awareness of the composition's requirements and Mr Ruvinsky's directing Fragments of the Marseillaise Russian folk songs the Russian national anthem and the peal of the bells from the Kremlin tower were effectively done in the brilliant and majestic composition

Program notes were by Mrs Victor E Dombaugh a member of the Symphony board

Mrs Robert Y Smith president of the Symphony board spoke the sentiment of the audience today when she expressed herself as being thrilled and elated over the program Aside from the hundreds of patrons from Marion and communities there were scores from adjoining towns and cities in the central part of the state

In last night's audience were Miss Speaks mother Mrs John C Speaks her brother Standard Speaks and several relatives and friends from Columbus Her father Colonel John C Speaks was unable to attend because of a cold

Miss Speaks sang Wednesday night in Portsmouth She returned to Columbus last night for a short visit before going on tour in Missouri and Illinois and will return to New York and her radio work on March 25 In April she will sing in Cincinnati and Findlay

Her concert engagements this season have taken her in Texas Wisconsin New England and Florida and she found time in February to fly with her husband to Bermuda for a short vacation

Miss Speaks whose home is in Columbus is a graduate of Ohio State university Christmas brings her home to Columbus each year for a short vacation and her tours frequently bring her close enough to her home town to permit short visits with her family numerous times during the year

Miss Speaks with justifiable pride likes to sing her uncle's compositions and likes to include one or more of them in her program

INCOME TAX

up no goal for this month's tax collections the margin by which the receipts exceed the $505 000 000 collected last Month is expected to be cited over and over in coming congressional debate Unofficial guesses for the March total average about $650 000 000

For instance officials said if the tax yield is plentiful farm leaders can be expected to argue that the extra collections represent an unexpected treasury windfall which could be used for larger farm appropriations without impairing the budgetary outlook

Overhanging all congressional debates on spending and economy in recent weeks has been President Roosevelt's prediction that unless appropriations were held to his January estimates and the new taxes were voted the treasury would reach its $45 000 000 000 debt limitation during the fiscal year beginning July 1

Thus if revenues should be larger than he expected there might be room either for more spending or avoiding new taxes or both

The receipts also may influence the past reluctance of congress to follow the administration's request to tax the interest from future issues of state and local government bonds

Returns must be filed in person or mailed before midnight to the nearest of the 60 internal revenue offices throughout the country At least a week is expected to elapse however before authoritative estimates of the yield will be possible

Mary Awakens to Find Arrangements Made for Rehearsal.

L[illegible]IAN waved me an airy [illegible]bye and left me virtually [illegible] with laughter. But the [illegible] mirth gave my nerves [illegible]aluable to me, and with a [illegible] of my shoulders I went [illegible] Mary's room and knocked [illegible].

[illegible] opened the door with his [illegible] against his lips, but when [illegible] me he knew my errand [illegible]ped aside for me to enter.

"She's had a wonderful nap," he [illegible], his eyes fixed affectionately on his beautiful young wife, curled up like a child on the bed, with one shapely arm thrown up over her head.

"It's a shame to waken her," I whispered back, "but it simply has to be done. Will you, or shall I?"

Gentle Awakening

"I told her I'd waken her when you wanted her," he said, "so if you don't mind—"

"Of course not," I assured him hastily, and he crossed to the bedside, and with infinite care bent over to the arm flung above her head, took the hand in his, and pressed his lips against the palm.

Her eyes opened, not abruptly, but as if the kiss were pulling her gently back to wakefulness, and her voice was so soft and gentle that I wondered if it could belong to our imperious Mary, whose voice is more of a carol than a coo.

"Ah! Noel darling," she murmured. "I was dreaming about you, something nice like this. I suppose it's time for me to get up. Oh!" She moved slightly as she saw me behind him. "Auntie Madge! You've came for me! I suppose it's time for our rehearsal."

Ready and Willing

"Right you are, Mary," I told her smiling. "Will it take you long to get ready? My father wishes to see me later in the afternoon, and I want to get that rehearsal out of the way before something else happens to delay it."

"I'm virtually ready now," Mary said, sitting up and swinging her feet to the side of the bed. "I just have to put on my shoes, change this negligee for a gown, and smooth my hair. I'll forego the rest of the primping."

"I'll just run along," Noel said with his hand on the door-knob. "But, Aunt Madge, oughtn't she have something to eat before she rehearses?"

"That's already arranged, dear boy," I said, and told him of Lillian's plan to send luncheon trays to Katie's rooms in the kitchen wing where I had planned to stage the rehearsal.

Conscience Trouble

"That's all right, then," he said, and departed on the word, leaving Mary staring at me with approval.

"Aren't you the fixinest lass, though?" she apostrophized me. "That's the one place in the house which the regal princess Olina won't think of, if she or my darling pap-in-law have any inkling of what's doing."

"That's why I chose it," I told her, "but I'm suffering from an attack of conscience. Ever since Olina last spoke to me, I've been doubling more and more that she suspects anything about the rehearsal, or that she would tell Philip Veritzen anything about it if she did suspect us."

"Mebbe so, mebbe so," Mary said skeptically, "but I hope your conscience doesn't prompt you to change your present choice for this last rehearsal."

"No, it doesn't prod me that far." I told her laughing, then as I saw that she was ready—she had made the necessary changes while she was talking—I slipped my hand beneath her arm and impelled her toward the door.

"Here's hoping Katie has something especially good in store for us!" I said as we went through the door into the hall.

DEMOCRATS STRIKE AT REPUBLICAN GIFTS

Limit of $5,000 Placed on Campaign Contributions.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 15 — Senate Democrats contended gleefully today that an amendment fixing a $5,000 top for campaign contributions had alienated Republican support for legislation to broaden the Hatch anti-politics act.

The amendment prevailed by a narrow 40-to-38 vote yesterday, after opponents of the bill had argued that it would strike at "money bag interests" supporting the Republican party.

Senator Frazier of North Dakota was the only Republican voting for the amendment, which was tacked on to legislation extending restrictions on political activity to more than 500,000 state workers paid partly from federal funds.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala), sponsor of the proposal, estimated that it would outlaw about $3,000,000 of contributions in each presidential compaign year and hurt Republicans more than Democrats.

Senate committee-figures show that the Republican national committee received $7,761,000 in 1936, and that 274 contributions were in excess of $5,000. The Democrats got $5,205,000 and had 175 contributions of more than $5,000.

Senator Minton (D-Ind.), a leader of the Hatch act foes, said the Bankhead amendment "certainly will make it mighty hard for the Republicans to take this bill."

Minton conceded, however, that the Hatch measure had the votes to pass in the senate.

Supporters of the legislation hoped for a final vote before adjourning tonight.

IOWA PAPER IS WINNER OF MAGAZINE'S AWARD

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 15 — The Des Moines Register and Tribune was named today winner of Editor & Publisher's silver loving cup for all around newspaper promotion preeminence during 1939.

The Minneapolis Star-Journal won the second award for the best all around promotion. The two papers are owned by the Cowles family of Des Moines.

First and second prizes and honorable mentions for excellence were awarded to 15 other newspapers.

The judges of the ninth annual contest made a special research award to the bureau of advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers association for its continuing study of newspaper reading. They called it "the outstanding effort of the years in newspaper research."

BRITISH REPORT NAZIS SCUTTLE ANOTHER SHIP

LONDON, March 15 — Britain officially announced today the scuttling of the German merchant ship La Coruna, 7,414 tons, when a British warship approached her Wednesday in northern waters.

The warship picked up 80 members of the crew after the vessel was set afire and finished her off with gunfire.

The La Coruna left Rio De Janeiro Feb. 3 and apparently was trying to reach home through Norwegian waters.

START DEFENSE TALKS

By The Associated Press

STOCKHOLM, March 15 — The first definite step in negotiations toward a possible northern defense alliance was seen today in the arrival here of C. J. Hambro, president of the Norwegian storting (parliament).

Observers expressed belief that Hambro would establish his first contacts with Swedish political leaders on the question of whether such an alliance would be feasible.

ICE BLOCKS FISHING FLEET

By The Associated Press

SANDUSKY, O., March 15—Today marks the opening of the Lake Erie fishing season, but from Toledo to Conneaut, no commercial fishing boats put out. An ice field along the southern Erie shore kept fleets in port on the opening day for the first time in eight years. Operators of fleets estimated they would not be able to place nets until April 1 to 15.

ADMIRAL TO RETIRE

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 15—Rear Admiral Cyrus W. Cole, who was appointed to the naval academy from Ohio in 1895, will retire July 1, one day after his 64th birthday anniversary. Commandant at the Portsmouth navy yard since 1936, Cole received the distinguished service medal following the salvaging of the submarine Squalus, which sank last May with 26 men aboard.

BURNS KILL AGED WOMAN

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., March 15—A candle's flame cost the life of Mrs. Arline Watson, 85, and set fire officials at work today investigating her death. She entered a clothes closet with the candle, apparently in search of something, police said. Her clothing was ignited and a daughter, Mrs. Nellie Ross, suffered hand and leg burns in an attempt to extinguish the flames.

Quick Advantage Taken by Hitler of Finnish Peace

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Fuehrer Hitler is moving quickly to capitalize the smashing victory he won when he forced a Russo-Finnish peace, thus forestalling a probable but slowly developing Anglo-French intervention which would have opened up a new battle-front against him and caused havoc with his war plans.

With that grave danger dismissed, he has started to repair his damaged economic Siegfried line in the Balkans, where allied cold and influence have been raising hob with his sources of supplies. He has been banking much on the products of this rich area to help him win the war.

The ink wasn't dry on the peace treaty before the Nazi chieftain was applying his blitzkrieg methods to the political situation. It is understood that he already has extracted from Russia a promise to keep hands off Rumania.

Rumania Favor Sought

That is a development of prime importance. It is calculated to enable the Nazis to win Rumania away from the allies, which would represent another triumph for Hitler.

Naturally the Nazi leader's first thoughts were for Rumania. Not only is it the source of vast quantities of grain but of the only large supply of petroleum which he has thus far been able to tap.

The allies, whose nationals are the largest owners of the wells, have been using the big-stick on Rumania to prevent shipments to their reich. One line of pressure they are said to have used on King Carol was that they might reconsider their promise to assist him in event of invasion.

The Soviet is supposed to have had a longing eye on her former province of Bessarabia which Rumania secured at the end of the World war. Carol has been maintaining a great army on the Soviet frontier for fear of an attack. Hence the importance of Hitler's move in securing the Russian promise to let the Rumanians alone.

Rumania already has started to demobilize agricultural workers from the army, and this is taken to be a response to the Nazi promise to protect the country from aggression in return for a real effort to meet the reich's need for supplies. It is estimated that farmers constitute about half of King Carol's big army at present.

Between Two Fires

Nazidom also is busy try to win back the rest the Balkans. These important states are in a most uncomfortable position, being squeezed between the Germans, who want to keep this great area open for supplies, and the allies, who want to cut it off from the reich. The release of Russia from the Finnish war has made the Balkans even more wary of challenging Herr Hitler.

The cold fact is that the Balkans, while wanting allied gold and wishing to be free of German politico-economic control, are afraid of the armed might of Germany.

It will be interesting to see what the allies do, if anything, about opening up a new war front against Hitler in the Balkans, now that the chance to intervene in the Baltic has slipped away. It won't be very profitable for them if he is able to regain his prestige and flow of supplies in that great area.

"Her executive ability is shown by her insistence upon hiring the best ranaculturist obtainable. I can take you to the farm, and by exhibiting photographs of it as it was prior to her assuming temporary charge, two months ago, show the improvements she has made within that short time. I will prove that by making Miss Tomi Toland his heir, the late Timothy Toland established his mental competency."

Presentation of the witnesses was deferred until the afternoon session and a recess called. Tomi was first out of the courtroom, scurrying through the corridors to the haven of her car. As swiftly as noon traffic would allow, she drove home, to hear the telephone ringing as she hurried up the steps.

"Go on and ring," she spat at the instrument. "You folks thought you'd be through testifying and back here, by noon, didn't you? You'd have been ready with explanations of shopping, or something. Well, you're going to have a nice time explaining this evening."

Heartrending Sobs

And because she had been trained by Great-aunt Hannah, she removed her suit, hung it up carefully, and donned a robe before throwing herself on the chaise longue to cry.

The Major had used that childish story to turn a jury against her. "And I only tried to make money because I heard Augusta say she couldn't have a new suit because of the expense of a child."

Tomi sat up and mopped at her eyes and nose. "Why couldn't they ever understand? And why don't th... want me to have this place when they don't need it?"

And neither the Major nor Austin had come to see her. They hadn't even telephoned.

Allen had sounded nice, but as Dotty had said, he could turn his charm on and off as it suited him. It suited him to keep the will intact, or he would surely lose in the long run.

Had he been truly interested in her, he'd have had her called into court. "That's where I should have been," she cried indignantly. "Don't they realize that I am the one to be considered? Not that sheaf of papers with a red seal stamped over Great-uncle Timothy's signature."

She cried again, deep heartrending sobs. There wasn't anyone in the wide world she could trust. Even A. J. Morris had gone over to Bartell's camp the moment Allen had smiled at him.

The persistent ringing of the telephone alarmed her. Perhaps she had better answer. Could she keep her voice clear, gay, nonchalant?

She could. At Mrs. Dougherty's worried: "Where were you?" she replied, laughing, "Oh, Dotty, I carried seventy pairs to the new pool. Isn't that wonderful?"

"Humph!" grunted Dotty. "Did you find your lunch? It's ready for you in the refrigerator. And, Tomi, I'll be a little late. I'm trying to find a figured print that doesn't make me look like the auditorium done up for the spring garden show."

"Take your time," returned Tomi. "And tell Abe if he comes home wearing a flower print, I'll plant him in the market pen where the bees can find him."

Dotty chuckled and Tomi replaced the receiver. From now on she was alone, hedged in by enemies. Well, she'd take it, chin up.

She shared her lunch with Pickles and Pepper, the cat and dog, then wandered into the yard. She didn't want to work.

Down at the foot of the kitchen garden, hidden from the house by a hedge of salt cedar, was a tiny cove. She would don a sunsuit, the brightest, happiest one she had, and lie in the sun.

Scarlet suit with white sails, scarlet hat. "And a scarlet nose," added Tomi as she hurried to the shelter.

It was nice there. The water spread away from her feet like a huge fan, with narrow ruffles of white lace foam.

Pepper discovered her and dug industriously in the sand, sending it over her in sheets, then, weary of this, ran into the water and came out dripping to shake himself as soon as he reached her.

'So Alone'

Tomi was debating whether to return him to the house and lock him in, or suffer his violent attentions, when he thrust his black snout close to her, flopped down, and slept. The warm, damp little body was comforting. But even he belonged to Dotty.

Tears stung Tomi's eyes. "It's being so alone," she whispered.

Little pictures of her childhood returned. First Mimi, a wan white shadow. Tomi couldn't remember her face, only her arms and her hands, clutching hands which tried to hold her from harm and want. Then that lonely period when there were no hands and there was want.

Julie came next in memory. Julie was Mimi's friend. She had fought to keep Tomi from the Tolands when they eventually traced her.

Tomi could remember Julie's words: "You said you did not recognize your brother's marriage to Mimi. Why then do you want this child?"

Tomi, it was explained, was half Toland.

As soon as she could speak English, she had asked, "Half Toland, I am? What does it mean?"

They couldn't explain satisfactorily; nor why the same stigma was not attached to the other children, merely because the marriage of their parents had been sanctioned by the presiding matriarch.

"I don't care," thought Tomi, lying on her back and watching a squadron of army planes maneuvering overhead, losing themselves momentarily in wispy clouds gathering in the west. "I'll just hoe my row. I'll prove my ability by making the farm pay."

She sat up suddenly. Make the farm pay? Didn't she realize that after the jury came in she might not have even a chance at the farm? That she could be evicted this very night?

"I should have stayed right there in the courtroom," she cried. "Then I could have fought for myself. I wonder—oh, it's too late now. Why didn't they tell me? Why didn't Allen let me know? Why couldn't he have been sparing enough to give me a chance?"

She cried into the sand now, with Pepper nosing her neck and whimpering with her.

"Oh, Pepper, and I did like Allen in spite of his cussedness. Oh, Pepper!"

Pepper, finding his pink tongue inadequate to wiping up the tears, sat down on his haunches in consternation, then flattened out and waited.

The sobs quieted, stopped; Tomi slept.

The sun disappeared behind gathering clouds, the tide came in, little waves nibbling at Tomi's toes. They brought her up with a start. It was late and she was chilled through, miserable, aching with fatigue and with some inner ache of desolation. Even Pepper had deserted her.

"Cherie. There you are!"

Pierre slid down the little cliff and came to Tomi. "We've looked everywhere. Then the dog kept leading me this way. Why, Tomi, what is wrong? Your eyes, I mean."

"Sunburn, probably," sighed Tomi, "I went to sleep here, and I—"

Pierre's steady blue eyes were deep wells of sympathy. He had discarded his role of employer. He had taken her cold hands in his, was tucking the robe about her, returning to warm her hands.

"Tell me, you know?" he questioned.

Tomi nodded miserably.

"That Bartell," snapped Pierre. "I do not like the way he is handling these affairs."

Bellevue Avenue Woman Wins First Prize in Merchants "Look" Contest

Twelve Persons Turn in Correct Lists of Misplaced Articles in Store Windows.

Names of 12 winners in the "Look" contest, sponsored by the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce were announced today, with Mrs. Mozelle Peterson of 197 Bellevue avenue receiving the first award.

The contest, lasting from March 7-12, involved inspection of display windows of 31 Marion stores and picking out intentionally misplaced articles in each—articles which the stores do not sell.

Despite a large number of entries, only 12 persons had the list of misplaced articles exactly right, with the result that the thirteenth prize, $1 for honorable mention, had to go begging for a taker. In all $40 was awarded.

Mrs. Peterson won $25 for first; Mrs. Ruth Yohn of 274 Oak street, $10 for second; Mrs. Grace Hann of 205 Leader street, $5 for third; and the following nine received $1 each for honorable mention: Mrs. Myrtle Culp of 575 Thompson street, Miss Dorothy Sheets of 854 Bellefontaine avenue, Miss Agnes Welch of 378 North Main street, Homer Partlow of Leader street, Paul Reynolds of 288 East Center street, Miss Betty Yohn and Miss Dora Yohn of 274 Oak street, Miss Jean Jaggers of 466 Scranton avenue and Miss Jane Farley of 127 Sharpless court. The list of 12 winners was dominated by the women, 10 to two.

Two Failed To Sign

Two persons could have won some sort of a prize undoubtedly, but failed to sign their names to their entries which were completely correct.

Another entrant filled out six or seven of the misplaced articles correctly, then apparently became a little tired and filled in the rest of them to suit his fancy—automobiles, washing machines and the like—then signed it "Santa Claus, North Pole."

In announcing Mrs. Peterson as first prize winner Chamber officials said that although others had all the misplaced articles correct, Mrs. Peterson's entry excelled in originality. Her entry carried out the Easter theme with a brightly colored chick on the blank. Mrs. Peterson's 25-word statement on "Why I Like to Shop in Marion," required of all entrants, was also good.

Her statement: "It costs to go out of town, and since we get the same service and merchandise here, why not stay here and save."

Mrs. Yohn's second prize statement was in rhyme:

"There's a wide variety of merchandise,
A beautiful attractive display
Of bargains in quality and quntity
To be remembered for many a day."

The third-prize statement of Mrs. Hann was:

"I can see what I buy and can always find what I want. A always patronize merchants in Marion."

In going over the entries the judges found that the misplaced articles in the windows of Anson Pickerel, Inc., and the Loeb Furniture Co. seemed to cause the most trouble. The Pickerel article was "lady's jeweled clip" which many called a "pin," and at Loeb's the articles was "a pen and holder" or "desk set," incorrectly listed as an ink well by some contestants.

Many listed "marbles" as correct as the Monarch Printing & Supply Co. but "two keys" was the right answer.

The complete list of "contest" stores and misplaced articles follows:

"BARNS AND VISIONS" IS CRESTLINE PASTOR'S TOPIC

"Barns and Visions" was the topic discussed by Rev. T. M. Patterson of Crestline last night at a preaching mission service at Forest Lawn Presbyterian church. His text was Luke 12:18 "I will pull down my barn and build greater."

His sermon was based on the story of the rich man whose harvest was so large that he decided to build larger barns and take life easy, living off his abundance. Rev. Patterson declared these barns represent the material possessions and worldly pursuits of today and that many permit these "barns" to come between them and God and Christ's ideals. He pointed to the danger of such actions, and said we need to reexamine our lives and pull down our worldly barns.

He will speak again tonight at 7:30.

Music last night included a duet by Misses Beatrice Thomas and Ruth Wasserbuck and a song by the choir led by Mrs. C. L. Midlam.

A Holy Week service will be conducted Thursday night at 8. The choir, directed by Ed Ruth, will sing special selections. Rev. Diller's sermon will be on "Forces Surrounding the Cross."

At the Prospect church the confirmation service will be at 10:45 a. m. In the class are Loma Lauer, Martha Long, Phyllis Knickel, Lucille Rasey and Donald Moyer. Holy Week services will be held Monday through Friday nights at 7:30, except on Thursday when the service will be at 7. Wierth of Marion; Wednesday, "A New Human Relationship," Rev. R. L. Barr of Waldo; Thursday, "The Humanness of Jesus," Rev. Diller; Friday, "The Fulfillment of Divine Purpose," Rev. Diller. Friday night there will be a preparatory service.

"BEST UNDRESSED" GIRL IS GRATEFUL

Janice Logan Fetes Those Who Started Her Career.

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, March 15—Janice Logan, the "best undressed girl of 1939," is also the most grateful of any year.

Janice, Chicago beauty, gave a dinner party last night for nine men who helped her break into motion pictures and presented each with a gift—an engraved cigarette lighter.

The beneficiaries, touched at this unHollywood-like behavior, expressed delighted amazement. Said Camerman Henry Hallenberger, who directed her first movie test:

"I've been at Paramount studio for 23 years, and this is the first time an actress has invited me to have my picture taken with her."

The New York Art Students league last month elected Miss Logan the nation's best undressed girl despite stiff competition from Marlene Dietrich, Dorothy Lamour and others.

Miss Logan, daughter of Stuart Logan, prominent Chicagoan, made her film debut recently in "Dr. Cyclops."

Low-grade roughage, cheap in cost, can be used to feed idle horses or those that do only light work in the winter.

GOVERNOR IN COURT TO STOP DAM WORK

Asks Injunction To Prevent Completion of Arch.

By The Associated Press

DISNEY, Okla., March 15—Oklahoma's vigorous "state's rights" executive bolstered his military rule over Grand river dam today with a court order to prevent completion of the $20,000,000 power project until Uncle Sam kicks in with another $888,275.

The flame-haired governor, Leon C. Phillips, obtained a temporary order restraining further construction of an unfinished arch. He had put the northeastern Oklahoma project under martial law Wednesday.

The dam authority, challenging Phillip's right to halt the work, ordered Maseman Construction Co. Kansas City, general contractor, to proceed "as may seem necessary to insure the uninterrupted continuance of construction work."

The governor's petition for an injunction set at $888,275 the damages he declared the federal government must pledge, contingent on the state's winning a judgment, for roads and bridges which will be inundated when the dam is closed.

TRY MY NEW CAKE FOR ST. PATRICK'S DAY SO LIGHT, DELICATE, MADE WITH SPRY SAYS AUNT JENNY

Only Spry gives ALL these 3 EXTRA ADVANTAGES
Purer—stays fresh longer—creams so easily

"SPRY looks purer. Just notice its gleaming whiteness," says Aunt Jenny. "An' Spry is purer. See how you can fry without getting unpleasant smell or smoke. Notice what a fine, delicate flavor Spry cookin' has. An' so digestible, too.

"I hope every last one of you'll make this cake an' discover what wonderful cakes Spry gives—so light, fine-grained, velvety, good-tastin'. An' you save money, too. See how little Spry costs compared to what you pay for the most expensive cake shortenin'. Change to Spry for all bakin' an' fryin'!"

ST. PATRICK'S DAY CAKE
½ cup Spry; ¼ teaspoon salt; 1½ teaspoons vanilla; 1 cup sugar; 2 whole eggs and 1 egg white, unbeaten; 2 teaspoons baking powder; 2 cups sifted flour; ¾ cup milk

Blend Spry, salt and vanilla. Add sugar gradually and cream well. (So quick and easy with triple-creamed Spry!) Add eggs, singly, beating well after each addition. Sift baking powder with flour 3 times. Add flour to creamed mixture, alternately with milk, mixing after each addition until smooth. Bake in two Spry-greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. (See what a light, fine-grained cake you get. Use purer Spry for all your cakes—pastry and frying, too.)

Spread Caramel Frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. Decorate with shamrocks and pipe cut from citron and tinted green.

CARAMEL FROSTING
½ cup sugar; ½ cup hot water; 3 tablespoons Spry; 1 tablespoon butter; ⅛ teaspoon salt; ½ teaspoon vanilla; 3 tablespoons caramelized sugar sirup; 2½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar; 1 egg yolk; 2½ tablespoons scalded top milk (about)

Place granulated sugar in skillet and stir constantly over medium heat until sugar is melted and dark. Remove from fire, add hot water gradually, and stir until dissolved.

Blend Spry, butter, salt, vanilla and caramelized sugar sirup. (Remaining sirup can be stored for future use.) Add ½ cup confectioners' sugar gradually, creaming well. Add egg yolk and blend. Add remaining sugar, alternately with hot milk, beating until stiff enough to spread. Add just enough milk to make a nice spreading consistency.

(All measurements in these recipes are level)
(Clip and save this Spry recipe)

Five Marion Fighters Among Golden Gloves Winne

Bucyrus, Crestline, Delaware Punchers Also Share Titles

800 See Final Tournament Bouts; Event Called Most Successful in Six-Year History of Fight Tourneys in Marion.

By CHARLES HOSTETLER
Marion Star Sports Editor

Five Marion leather-slingers and single representatives from Bucyrus, Crestline and Delaware comprise the list of 1940 Golden Gloves champions. They emerged triumphant from final bouts last night at the Marion Steam Shovel sports arena.

An estimated 800 spectators, one of the largest crowds ever attracted to a tournament session, witnessed the show. Paid attendance was above the 600 mark and the current series proved the most successful in the six-year tourney history, officials reported.

Ring enthusiasts were treated to a well-balanced menu. Five of the scraps went the full three rounds. One was halted near the kayo stage by Referee A. J. Wagner and two others ended in knockouts. The youthful punchers shot the works in every bout, hoping for a local title and a chance to continue climbing the Golden Gloves Ladder.

Get Golden Charms

Champions received the coveted gold charms. They also earned the right to enter the district A. A. U. meet at Springfield later this month. Runnersup were awarded the silver consolation charms. No formal presentation was made, the medals being handed to recipients at the close of each match.

Most desirable of the several hundred ringside and reserved seats were taken nearly an hour before the show began. Many of the regular customers had made reservations in advance and the early box office sale took the remaining choice ducats. General admission seats at the remote ends of the gymnasium were clogged long before ring time.

The show moved along as a skillfully planned production and there was never a dull moment. When one pair of fighters left for the dressing room another duo almost immediately stepped into the spotlight. Two consolation bouts and a special "balloon bursting battle royal supplemented the title matches.

Marion Punchers Win

Victories of three local amateurs shared the honor of attracting the most attention from the enthusiastic audience. The triumvirate, Joe Benedict, Otis Scott and Eddie Johnson, outpointed powerful foes in their respective middle, welter and feather weight duels. None experienced anything like easy going. They came through on superior ring work as well as an ability to take it.

Benedict's victory was by a decision over Charles Hightower, Bucyrus colored lad. Joe gave a three-pound weight advantage, but won going away after sparring through the opening stanza. Starting in his customarily cautious manner, Joe took several crushing blows to feel out his opponent. In the second he shoved repeated rights at close range and then slugged toe-to-toe. The third was all Joe's and a pair of devastating rights to the jaw crashed Hightower to the mat. The final bell clanged at the count of four and it was an easy choice for the arbiters.

Otis Scott's advantage of training stood him in good stead in the welterweight match with Jimmy Gilmore of Marion. Both were caught off balance and hit the canvas in the first. Gilmore kept his chin burrowed in a shoulder to stay away from Scotty's right. They gave and absorbed hefty punches aplenty and Gilmore's nose was bloodied in the third. Scott earned the judges' nod by a close but decisive margin.

Johnson Wins

Eddie Johnson and Dan Mathews, local featherweights, waited for no invitation to toss gloves at the start of their scrap. Johnson's trip-hammer jabs with both hands bloodied Mathews nose in the first. They wrestled each other to the canvas i the third, and Mathews took rest counts of seven and nine. Although tired at the close Johnson was definitely the winner, the judges voted.

The card opened and closed with knockouts. In the curtain-

GOVERNOR DICKERS TO BUY NEW YORK YANKS

NEW YORK, March 15—The New York Yankees, a nice bauble in financial as well as baseball figures, are for sale but it looks like they will be at the same old stand for the same owners when the American league opens next month.

There was quite a scurry yesterday over reports that Governor Francis P. Murphy of New Hampshire had virtually completed a deal for a syndicate.

The governor admitted that he had inquired into the possibility of the sale but denied that negotiations were underway or that he had submitted an outright proposition.

8 NEW RECORDS SET AT DARTMOUTH MEET

By The Associated Press

HANOVER, N. H., March 15—After being denied admission to trackdom's select circle of record-breakers for five years, John Woodruff, the great Negro Olympic champion, gloated over two indoor marks today and the world hailed him as the fastest half-miler in history.

The long-striding Columbia graduate student dominated last night's third Dartmouth record-breaking carnival, whose five-event program provided eight new indoor marks, by racing 880 yards against a handicapped field in 1:47.7. That time was 1.5 seconds faster than the fastest half-mile ever run outdoors, for which England's Syd Wooderson has been awaiting official credit for two years.
